Deadline reminder: Apply by Jan. 7, 2019 to receive internship funding for your tribal land office

Are there high school students in your community who are interested in exploring a career in tribal land? ILTF offers grants of up to $10,000 for one student intern, or up to $15,000 for two interns, to work in tribal land offices. Interns should have completed their sophomore, junior or senior year of high school and have an interest in working in some aspect of tribal land management.

The purpose of the program is to provide real-life land office experiences to students. The summer internship should extend over a 10- or 11-week period, with students committing to work 400 hours during that time. Students must keep a brief daily log of their activities during their internship. At the end of the internship, students have to submit a copy of the daily log and a 2-5-page report detailing their activities and what was learned.

Please note: In addition to the student reports, supervisors must complete a report summarizing intern activities as well as report on challenges and/or successes to implementing the program in their community.

Additional information

- Internships are for high school students only. College students are not eligible.
- Interns cannot be an immediate family member of current department staff.
- ILTF will select the tribal land offices to receive funding. This will be done by Feb. 4, 2019.
- Tribal land office staff will recruit and select interns to participate in their land office.

Application deadline
