Recruiting Academic Coaches & Scholars for Fall 2020

Please share this opportunity with your students...

On behalf of American Indian Graduate Center, I am excited to share an academic coaching opportunity for Native scholars and professionals: Rising Native Graduates.

This premier academic coaching program is specifically designed for Native undergraduate juniors and seniors preparing to pursue a graduate or professional degree. Using the online platform PeopleGrove, our team will match students with a professional or current graduate student whose academic and professional goals complement their own. Academic Coaches and Rising Native Graduates Scholars will work together one on one as the students navigate the graduate or professional school application process.

Rising Native Graduate Scholars will receive incredible benefits:

- Receive one on one coaching from a Native graduate student or professional who has successfully navigated this phase of their academic career
- Join in the inaugural cohort of Rising Native Graduates Scholars
- Utilize Rising Native Graduates' interactive programs and resources to improve your resume, prepare for interviews, enhance your network and more!
- Build your network by connecting with Native professionals through Rising Native Graduates' interactive programs and resources
- Receive gift cards and program incentives for participating

American Indian Graduate Center is recruiting undergraduate juniors and seniors to serve as Scholars, as well as current graduate or professional students and new professionals to serve as Academic Coaches. We invite you to share this exciting opportunity with your students and colleagues, and encourage them to apply.

Rising Native Graduates is supported by a $300,000 three-year grant from the M.J. Murdock Charitable Trust, which provides grants to organizations working in Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington that seek to strengthen the region's educational and cultural base in creative and sustainable ways. The program is also supported by generous funding from Wells Fargo.
